Pravat Feri by NSS Volunteers to mark the Commencement of Students' Week
Date: 02.01.24

The NSS Units I, II, III and IV of Prasannadeb Women's College organized a Pravat Feri (Morning March) on 02.01.2024 to mark the commencement of Students' Week. The march was conducted in order to inaugurate the observation of Students' week as instructed by Higher Education Department. The Pravat Feri started from the college premises with a brief address given by the NSS Programme Officer of Unit IV, Sri Utpal Roy, who emphasized the role of students in shaping the future and the importance of Students' Week in nurturing their potential. The NSS volunteers, along with the Programme officers of the four NSS units and other faculty members enthusiastically participated in the march.

After covering the greater part of the town of Jalpaiguri, the Pravat Feri culminated at the college premises, where the participants gathered for a group photograph and shared their reflections on the march. The program successfully highlighted the spirit of Students' Week and fostered a sense of unity, enthusiasm, and civic responsibility among the participants.

The initiative received appreciation from the college administration, reaffirming the commitment of the NSS Units towards fostering awareness and engagement among students.
